Congressmen Ask Quick Probe Of Cohn-Schine Case

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Army Secretary Stevens collided yesterday as charges and countercharges of pressure, blackmail and lying exploded around the case of a drafted member of McCarthy's subcommittee staff.

From a bipartisan majority of McCarthy's subcommittee—three Democrats and one Republican—came a clamor for a fast investigation to get the whole story of what has been going on behind the scenes.

What set off the latest spectacular flare-up within and around the McCarthy subcommittee was an Army report accusing the Wisconsin senator and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, of turning on pressure for favored treatment for Pvt. David G. Schine.

Schine is Cohn's pal and was a consultant to the McCarthy committee until he was drafted into the Army last November.

McCarthy bitterly protested that the report was an attempt at "blackmail." Just as bitterly, Stevens protested McCarthy's release of an unsigned memorandum the senator said was from committee files—a memo that said Stevens had asked that the subcommittee shift its hunt for Reds from the Army to the Air Force, Navy and Defense Department.

"Utterly untrue," the army secretary said.

He and McCarthy have warred before—over McCarthy's treatment of Army officers called as witnesses.

The new row brought hot discussion within the McCarthy subcommittee. Sen. Dirksen pointed it up by accusing McCarthy of breaking an agreement with the Republican members in releasing material from the subcommittee files.

He told newsmen this was "a departure from the agreement we had yesterday" at a secret meeting dealing with the Army report and Cohn.

A few minutes later McCarthy told reporters at a conference—the second of the day—he had released information from the files "very reluctantly" and only because of the release of the Army report.

The senator said Cohn's record in "digging up traitors and Communists" in government "surpasses anything I know of" outside of the FBI director J. Edgar Hoover. But he said he had no objection to putting Cohn and others under oath for questioning.

The Army report at the heart of the newest clash said Cohn told Stevens he would be "through" and the Army "wrecked" if Schine was sent overseas. It said McCarthy repeatedly asked that he be assigned to the New York area, where he could assist the subcommittee on the side.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), a member of the McCarthy subcommittee, told reporters the report contained "most shocking charges" and Cohn should be fired if they were true. He said he had written McCarthy, asking for a subcommittee session to look into the charges.

The three Democrats on the subcommittee, Sen. McClellan (Ark.), Symington (Mo.) and Jackson (Wash.), also whipped out a statement saying they assumed McCarthy would call one soon to "discuss the report and determine what action should be taken."

Greensburg (AP) — The defense appealed to a jury of seven men and five women yesterday to couple mercy with justice and spare the life of John Wesley Wable, charged with being the phantom slayer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. The case is expected to go to the jury today.

Chief Defense Atty. A. C. Seales did not specifically ask for an acquittal. He declared if the jury believes Wable's story that "Jim Parks" committed the actual slaying the highest possible verdict it could return would be second degree murder.

Wable had testified he gave his revolver to Parks. The man was identified by Wable as a counterfeiter for whom he has passed money. The state says Parks was a figment of Wable's imagination.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph M. Loughran told the jury in his summation: "I ask you find this man guilty of murder in the first degree with a penalty of death."

Crude Note Sent From Belvidere

A letter threatening the life of New Jersey Governor Robert B. Meyner and his family was branded the work of a "crackpot extremist" last night by the head of the New Jersey-Pennsylvania Citizens Committee.

The letter was received Wednesday at the Governor's home in Phillipsburg.

It was postmarked from the Belvidere, N. J. Postoffice. The letter said in part:

"The little white house on Lincoln Street is going to be blown to bits and your son with you in it." The letter was addressed to Meyner's mother, Mrs. Sophia Meyner.

Scrawled and incoherent in parts, the letter dealt with the possible closing of a bridge.

Meyner refused to sign a bill on March 4 which would have prevented destruction of the bridge between Delaware, N. J., and Upper Mount Bethel Township, Pa.

In Belvidere last night, Fred Fuchs, head of the non-partisan citizens committee formed to fight the closing of the bridge said he and his group were "shocked at the news."

"We feel this sort of thing is terrible, absolutely terrible," Fuchs told The Daily Record.

"We think it's definitely just the work of an extremist or a crackpot. We're cooperating with the authorities in every way we possibly can," Fuchs continued.

Although he declined to comment on the investigation being conducted by New Jersey State police, Fuchs said:

"We were contacted earlier about the letter and members of our committee have been working overtime trying to help the police."

Decrying the "extremist reasoning" which would bring about such a letter in the first place, Fuchs declared:

"That's not a democratic method at all. It's definitely the work of a crackpot." Belvidere, where the letter was mailed, is a few miles north of the Phillipsburg-Easton area.

At a hastily-called news conference last night, Meyner smiled and showed no outward sign of disturbance. He said: "I don't think the home is going to blow up, but I do think the State police should investigate."

The governor said he turned the letter over to State police because "I am concerned about my mother."

State troopers were reported stationed around the Meyner home in Phillipsburg. Police said, however, "no arrests" have been made so far.

A photostatic copy of the letter made by the State police showed the writing to be something like a childish scribble.

It bore the signature: "H. A. B. and Sam". It had a postscript which read (to Mrs. Meyner): "We are warning your son."

Meyner refused to sign a bill prohibiting the destruction of the bridge on March 4, saying such an action would be unconstitutional.

The bridge is toll-free. It is slated for destruction in-line with an agreement for financing three toll bridges at Delaware Water Gap, Pa. and Milford, Pa. and at Portland-Delaware—farther north of the older structure.

The citizens' committee, made up of residents of Warren County, N. J., and the area surrounding Portland, has opposed destruction of the bridge. The committee carried its fight to the courts through the aid of some legislators.

Couple Reported To Have Separated

Palm Beach, Fla. (AP) — Porfirio Rubirosa, the suave leader of the international smart set, refused to talk last night about reports that his marriage to Woodworth Heires Barbara Hutton is on the rocks.

"I do not know anything," Rubirosa said when a reporter queried him about reports that he and Babs had separated after only 10 weeks in their honeymoon home here.

Plans To Fire White

New York (AP) — Robert R. Young, for the first time since he began his battle for control of the New York Central Railroad, made it plain yesterday that if he wins he will oust William White as president of the road.

GOLDEN WEDDING GROUP. These five couples were honored by Tobyhanna township residents Thursday night. All—and two other couples not present—have been married more than 50 years. They are, from left to right (husband standing): Mr. and Mrs. David E. Berger, 51 years, Pocono Lake; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wildrick, 56 years, Blakeslee; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Searfoss (both seated, cutting the three-tiered cake), 60 years, from Fern Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waltz, 50 years, Blakeslee; and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Starnes, 51 years, Blakeslee. Absent due to illness were Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, 52 years, Pocono Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Berger, 54 years, Pocono Lake. Story on Page Five.

Two U. S. Planes Attacked By MIG Near Czech Border

Munich, Germany (AP) — Two U. S. military planes flying near the Czechoslovak border were attacked yesterday by a Soviet-made jet MIG, Bavarian police reported.

The State Department in Washington hours later confirmed the German report that there had been an attack on two U. S. military aircraft.

The State Department said it was unable to give details, but said both planes landed safely after the incident though the tail of one was shot up.

There were indications that U. S. Navy carrier planes from the Mediterranean Fleet were those involved.

Bavarian border police said eyewitnesses saw the attack at 7,500 feet in hazy weather and afterwards found empty aircraft gun shells on the ground near Waldmünchen.

The eyewitnesses were quoted as reporting:

Three planes were seen in the border area, and one of them, a Soviet-made MIG jet fighter, opened fire on the other two.

After several passes, it turned back east and disappeared in the direction of Czechoslovakia. The other two planes continued south.

One source was quoted as saying: "They were flying in Austria and inadvertently strayed over Czech territory. They were attacked by a MIG fighter and were pretty badly shot up. They made their way to Munich."

Barkley Urged To Seek Office

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Democrats yesterday urged former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who has spent 48 of his 76 years in public office, to offer six years more.

They launched a movement to draft him for nomination for the U. S. Senate.

The new call brings to 1,661,430 the number of men drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September, 1950.

The Defense Department recently estimated that draft calls would have to rise, beginning about July, and that the higher quotas would be necessary for at least six months thereafter.

Judge Suggests State Court Rule On Photo Ban

Pittsburgh (AP) — Federal District Judge Wallace S. Gourley continued yesterday a temporary injunction permitting the taking of pictures in Westmoreland County Courthouse corridors and suggested that legality of the county court ban on photographs in the courthouse and jail be decided by the state Supreme Court.

Judge Gourley directed his original restraining order issued March 2 remain in effect until noon on March 22. He said the temporary order is dissolved at that time unless an order is issued by the Supreme Court.

Judge Gourley's action stays present proceedings in his court but leaves the door open for the publishers protesting the Westmoreland ban to seek a remedy in the Supreme Court.

$295,282 Bid Submitted On Road Project

Unofficial low bid for over-lay of 18.41 miles of Route 309 with bituminous material was submitted by a State College contractor, according to the State Highways Department last night.

The bid was submitted by Nittany Materials Inc., State College. Nittany's bid for the project was $295,282.

Portions of the road to be overlaid with new material are located in Polk, Chestnut-hill, Hamilton and Stroud townships.

Blizzard Holds Mid-Continent In Icy Grip

Kansas City (AP) — A late winter storm was carried northeastward from the Rocky Mountains by winds of gale force yesterday bringing a blizzard to the mid-continent.

Winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour were general throughout this area whipping up one of the worst dust storms in 20 years. Visibility was zero in many places, and less than a mile in most areas.

Colorado and the western edge of Nebraska seemed to be the hardest hit. Snow drifted up to 24 inches deep in eastern Colorado. Six to eight inches of wet, blowing snow disrupted highway travel in Nebraska and hampered communications there.

The Eastern Plains area of Colorado and Wyoming lay helpless in the path of dust and snow storms that blocked highways and stranded hundreds of travelers.

Lenten Meditation

"If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me." John 21:22

Peter had just been told by Christ that he would meet a martyr's death. It was not an easy truth to bear. Shortly after he learned it he saw the beloved John nearby. Turning to Christ, Peter asked "and what shall this man do?" Jesus replied, "If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me."

God has a particular will for every life. Peter's course is designed for Peter and John's for John. It is not our business to pry into God's will for someone else. It is our duty to follow God in the way that he has plainly marked for us.

The Lenten season should call us to the place of solitary prayer. It should find us asking "Lord, what wouldst Thou have me to do?" Our lives will only be full insofar as we learn God's will and do it.

Three Townships Announce Plans For New Jointure

Brodheadsville—The five-township Pleasant Valley Joint School Board called it quits last night.

At a meeting in Chestnut Hill High School here the board voted 21 to one to dissolve its two-year-old joint agreement "as of June 30" this year.

Hamilton Township had petitioned the board to allow its withdrawal from the agreement in October last year but no action had been taken.

At last night's meeting Ross Township also asked to be released.

Polk, Eldred and Chestnut Hill Townships said they "are planning a new jointure after the old one is dissolved."

The vote to dissolve the joint agreement came after a lengthy discussion of the board's failure to secure approval for its PEBB40 projected building form from Harrisburg officials.

The meeting opened with a discussion and report on a meeting held in Harrisburg on Feb. 26.

At that meeting, the board was told, ten representatives from the district sat down to talk things over with J. Hugh Henderson, acting chief of school business, Bureau of School Administration in the State Department of Public Instruction.

At this meeting Henderson formally "turned down" the Pleasant Valley PEBB40 form, an application for State aid in building a new secondary school.

According to John Mills, supervising principal of Chestnut Hill High School, Henderson told the group the application for funds could not be approved "because of the financial conditions of several districts. Pleasant Valley Jointure could expect no State aid until the districts concerned could prove their ability to pay," Henderson told the group, Mills said.

Mills then said that Henderson had told the group that "Chestnut-hill and Polk were all right . . . Eldred might adjust itself, financially, to be all right . . . (but that) Pleasant Valley would receive no aid in financing a new school at this time."

At this point Hamilton board member Thomas Rogers pointed out that Henderson had also told the group that he "agreed that Hamilton's financial position was not nearly so bad as it had been projected on the PEBB-40."

Mills and N. Newton Davenport, president of the joint board, both agreed that Henderson had made the statement.

Mills said further that Ira Haupt Co., a New York bonding firm employed by the board, had said the five districts could float an issue of $500,000 "and no more."

The company, according to Mills, had written a letter to John C. Little, county superintendent of schools, saying that it was "out of the question for the five districts to think of trying to build a one million dollar school."

Davenport then told the board—and more than 50 persons who had turned out for the meeting—that "three boards met about a week ago and agreed . . . to approve the Hamilton petition for withdrawal."

This vote, Davenport said, was taken on March 3. Eldred, Polk and Chestnut Hill had all approved the measure, he said.

The three boards had also passed a resolution to "reform a jointure with any other interested boards." Chestnut Hill board member Clyde Dietrich asked permission to give his ideas on the subject. Dietrich appealed to board members to use moderation and to "think of the children of the area."

Dietrich said he had "talked with 50 people who said—if this jointure falls apart we will fight any move to join any future jointure."

In reply, Davenport said Dietrich's speech was "fine" but that "when it comes to impassive like Article 6 we are just stymied. We're also stymied another way in attaining our financial picture." He did not elaborate.

At this point Mrs. Muriel Hildabrand, a member of the Ross board, informed the board that Ross wanted to enter its petition for withdrawal, also.

Joint board solicitor Edward Williams handed Davenport an envelope which has been previously given to him by Ross board. It contained the Ross petition for release.

Davenport said he felt that that completed the five boards' statements on breaking up the jointure. Williams suggested that the board should take a roll call vote.

Rogers moved for a roll call. Mrs. Hildabrand seconded. The vote showed 21 members favoring dissolution of the jointure as of the

Puerto Rican Threatens To Kill President

New York (AP) — A Puerto Rican Nationalist called the FBI last night and said he planned to kill President Eisenhower. He was nabbed before he left the telephone booth.

Hauled in for questioning, he was identified as Jose Rivera Colon, 30, an itinerant paint sprayer. The FBI said his record included arrests for larceny and a conviction for arson.

In his telephone conversation, Colon identified himself as a member of the fanatic Puerto Rican Nationalist party. He said he intended to kill the President "in the next couple of months."

The telephone threat came amid a grand jury probe here of the shooting of five congressmen in Washington last week. More than 40 Puerto Ricans have been called to testify.

One Nationalist leader was jailed for refusing to testify before the grand jury. Another has been threatened with a jail term unless he talks.

AEC Plant Documents Disappear

Washington (AP) — Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash.) said yesterday that "substantial quantities" of classified documents have disappeared from the Atomic Energy Commission's giant plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash.

The missing documents conceivably could relate to hydrogen bomb production, if an unofficial report about some work done there is correct.

Pelly said he had no information indicating the material was stolen by spies.

The congressman reported that Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, has agreed to conduct an inquiry at once.

The Hanford plant is operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by the General Electric Co.

While the main known function of the Hanford plant is to produce plutonium for A-bombs, there has been an unofficial report that tritium material used in the first major hydrogen explosion—which wiped out an entire island at Eniwetok Atoll in November, 1952—was produced at Hanford.

Ike Work On Speech

Thurmont, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower arrived at his cabin retreat in the snowed-out Catoctin Mountains yesterday for a weekend of rest combined with work on the tax speech he will make to the nation Monday night.

end of the fiscal year (June 30). One member, Dietrich—opposed. Three other members were absent. Two were from Chestnut Hill.

Following the vote, Davenport said they had hoped to work in harmony but it didn't seem to be working out that way.

"Our three boards," he said, have passed motions to "reform and revitalize our unit and proceed as a united front. We will proceed to raise the money in the way we have been pleading to do."

The manner in which the three boards have been pleading to raise the money was kept "off the record" for newsmen attending the meeting.

Youngsters are always "cute"—whether they're the woolly type or the romper variety.

Youngsters are appealing because they are fascinating miniatures of the adult of the species. So tiny... yet they look, and soon begin to act, like smaller editions of the grown-ups.

That fact should make human parents deeply conscious of their responsibility. Their own example and influence, and their provision for the child's spiritual needs can make or mar a youngster's character.

Churches are the chief allies of conscientious parents. They provide consecrated Christian teachers, interesting graded lessons and the inspiring worshipful setting for a child's moral and spiritual training.

Will you help some church in this vital phase of its work? Will you attend and support the Church? Will you encourage parents you know to give their children the advantage of the Church's teaching ministry?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Let Them Work

Some people over 65 may not be able to do a full day's work, especially of physical labor, but everyone knows many who can. Professional and clerical people in their sixties often not only have all their wits about them but possess skills and judgment that make them highly useful to their employers.

It seems cruel, and inefficient as well, to require them to quit working at 65, or to work only at odd jobs, to be eligible for Social Security pensions.

As the law stands, a man over 65 can draw this pension only if he makes less than $75 per month at his job.

Some elderly men can make large enough salaries so they can afford to pass up the Social Security benefit. For the average person, however, the decision is difficult—it is almost as though the government were tempting him to be idle when he could be working. A retired worker with a dependent wife can draw as high as $127.50 per month from Social Security, and even more if he has dependent children.

One viewpoint is that the government should encourage people to retire at 65, because many elderly people will not retire at all unless they are forced to.

Room must be made for able and ambitious younger men, the argument goes, or they will grow frustrated and embittered, and American industry will lose some of the youthful willingness to experiment that has led to much of its growth and progress. European industry, it is pointed out, is largely in the hands of conservative oldsters who won't modernize either their plants or their methods.

It doesn't follow, however, that men over 65 must be cast out completely. Some universities require professors to retire at 65, but permit them to teach half time as long as they are willing and able.

Quite a few businesses, especially those which have no pension plans, have similar programs. Although they may enforce a retirement age rigidly, they retain their career employees and executives on part-time or advisory work.

All such people who make as much as $75 a month, and most would in these times, not only are deprived of the Social Security pensions they and their employers have been paying for all these years past, but they must go on paying Social Security taxes.

The case for any limit on a pensioner's earnings is a weak one, inasmuch as his pension has been paid for. The $75 maximum obviously is too low in view of the current value of the dollar, and Congress should raise it to a realistic figure.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Pic. Purkey Is Still Baffled

Dear Babe:

Well, I see there is still a lot of swallowing on the civilian front over people being asked questions maybe in a loud voice and I still wish anybody would break their hearts over a GI in a similar situation. I just tried to plead the Fifth Amendment in these questions:

1. What do you mean showing up for an inspection with one button off your coat?

2. Why don't you keep your ride clean?

3. Did you once tell the mess sergeant you was sick of baked beans and canned eggs?

I did not get nowhere pleading constitutional rights and I will bet I would get a couple of years in the brig if I clamored up and got touchy in case I was asked,

"Are you loyal to the United States and if so would you mind putting it in writing?" or if the top sarge asked me, "Didn't I see you in Moscow talking with the late Joe Stalin once?" I see a lot of people are indignant because a brigadier general, who did not answer questions fast enough, got roughed up by the quiz master, but I have never seen no tears for me when I was slow on responses to even little questions like "How come you overlooked them cigarette butts

on that KP detail last night?"

"Did you bug out of that last fight or was you just blown from the trench by a shell?" and "Why are you so nervous taking an enemy position? Do you want to live forever?" What Joe McCarthy said to that brigadier general was rough, but what the skipper said to me because my answers to these questions was not satisfactory was really murder.

I am not knocking this brigadier.

He was never charged with anything and just got roughed up during the give and take. Boy,

I have been roughed up more than that for showing up with one shoe untied, sleeping after reviell and not saluting properly.

When the brass thinks it is not getting the right answers fast enough it can be mighty tough,

too. Well, I see Vice-President

Nixon is going on the air about it and Adlai Stevenson is sounding off and there is all a great hassle back home. It is funny what a commotion can be made over anybody who gets asked questions unless he is a GI still sore from heavy clobbering.

Yours with love and kisses,

Oscar

P. S. — In your last letter, you asked me if I loved you as much as ever. On any question today on the civilian front it seems to be considered okay to claim Fifth Amendment. But this does not mean I am not loving you as much as ever. I am not a hypocrite. I am not a liar. I am not a snake. I am not a scoundrel. I am not a knave. I am not a rogue. I am not a scoundrel. I am not a knave. I am not a

Since the shooting by the four

Also, Feros-

suburb to a downtown hotel, at the suggestion of the FBI.

FLASHES — The Navy has run into unexpected trouble, behind the closed doors of the House

Appropriations Committee, on the request for funds to start a fourth super-aircraft carrier. Representative Clarence Cannon (D, Mo.), former Committee chairman, served notice at a private session that he will fight this proposal.

Cannon is a champion of a big military establishment, but continued these giant carriers are unproven and no more should be built until they have been tested in actual operation. So far, the Navy already has been authorized to spend $600,000,000 to build three of the huge vessels, two of them at Newport News, Va., and one at Brooklyn, N. Y. . . .

The Senate will definitely concur in the House-approved bill for an Air Force Academy, similar to West Point and Annapolis.

The way was cleared for full Senate approval when the Senate

Armed Services Committee recommended the legislation. Air

Secretary Harold Talbott has told Congress the new Academy will cost an estimated $143,000,000.

Under the bill, the site must be selected within 60 days after the measure becomes law.

Representative Robert Wilson

(R, Calif.), of the House Armed Services Committee, is telling colleagues that Defense Secretary

Wilson will advocate a pay raise for the military services. Last year, Wilson blocked that despite the recommendation of a special commission of businessmen who made a thorough study of the matter. Now, according to Representative Wilson, the Defense

chief favors more pay for service personnel. However, Budget Director Joseph Dodge has done nothing about it yet. . . . But one group of Army men is definitely slated for a pay raise when the new warrant officers bill becomes law.

Under this measure, hundreds of Army junior grade warrant officers will be raised to a higher pay grade; also, retirement for all warrant officers will be made permissive after 20 years' active duty, and retirement will become mandatory at 60.

A new showdown is brewing between the Administration and

Senator McCarthy. The possible

clash is over the Wisconsinite's sending a copy of his book attacking General George Marshall to the library of every military installation in the country. President Eisenhower has asked Defense Secretary Wilson for a report on the regulations governing the receipt of books by these libraries from individuals.

As reported by this column on March 4, McCarthy mailed two books to every military library;

the one castigating General Marshall and another titled "McCarthyism, The Fight For America."

When this information reached

President Eisenhower, he directed

Secretary Wilson to prepare a memorandum on the regulations involved in the matter. . . .

State Department insiders are claiming that Secretary Dulles will reject the security charges made against John Paton Davies,

Jr., career diplomat, by Senator McCarthy. Davies' clearance has been recommended by Undersecretary of State W. Bedell Smith, who confirmed similar actions by other security agencies.

Secretary Wilson has held up publication of a magazine article written by General Matthew Ridgway advocating more men for the Army, which is directly counter to the Administration's "new look" military policy. Wilson objected to the Army chief of Staff's article on the ground that such differences "should be kept within the family" . . . Lieutenant General John O'Daniel, famous trainer of combat troops, has been selected to replace Major

General Thomas Trapnell, as head of the American Military Mission in Indo-China. But the French are still balking at O'Daniel taking over the training of native forces in the Red-periled country.

That is being strongly urged by the Administration, but Paris is very cold to the proposal.

Prime Minister Nehru did a lot of angry talking about U. S. military aid to Pakistan, but he carefully said nothing about the fact that India is getting the same kind of help India recently got a number of American tanks and an Air Force mission is in that chanics in the operation of a num-

Stroudsburg School Board Approves New Salary Schedule

Minimum Pay Figure Set At $2,800

Stroudsburg school directors have approved a salary schedule which raises the minimum starting and "maximum possible" amounts to be paid to teachers in the school system.

Low salary under the schedule approved by the board Thursday night: $2,800 for a teacher not possessing a degree. High salary: $5,600 for a teacher with a master's degree plus 18 hours in his special field.

Neither the low nor the high salaries will be needed by the school immediately, however, according to superintendent Earl F. Groner.

Since there is little possibility that the system will hire a new teacher without a degree, unless an emergency situation arises, there is some possibility the low for a non-degree instructor will never be used.

There are teachers now employed by the borough school system, however, who do not have degrees. These instructors are covered by the non-degree provisions.

Salary for the non-degree teacher in his first year would be $2,800. The salary increases $200 per year until the teacher (providing he has taken no further educational work and has received no degree) reaches the maximum of $4,200 at the end of his eighth year of employment.

The $200 yearly increase prevails in the four other categories provided by the schedule.

For teachers possessing a bachelor's degree the starting salary would be $2,800. Maximum for a teacher, still holding only a bachelor's degree at the end of his 12th year of employment, would be $5,600.

The salary schedule, Groner says should tend to encourage self-improvement and advancement on the part of the teacher.

A teacher who takes 18 hours in his field after he has received his bachelor's degree is paid a starting salary of $3,000 in his first year; earns $200 more per year until he reaches the 12th year when (still with 18 hours in his field and a bachelor's) he would be paid the maximum $5,200.

Starting pay for a teacher holding a master's degree will be $3,200; maximum, at the end of the 12th year, $5,400.

An additional 18 hours in his special field, following the master's, will give the teacher a starting salary of $3,400; a maximum of $5,600.

The salary schedule is the same as that worked out by a salary committee and submitted to school administrators and the board.

With one exception, the board approved the committee's recommendations. This exception came in a recommendation by committee that the board approve an additional increment of $200 to be given to all teachers now employed in the district.

This increment, the committee recommended, should be paid in two installments: $100 for the 1954-55 year; the second $100 in the following year.

The increment would have been

Tobyhanna Township Group Honors Seven Couples At Golden Wedding Celebration

Pocono Pines — Tobyhanna Township Parent-Teachers Association "turned back the hands of time" Thursday night for seven "Golden Wedding" couples.

Five of the seven couples were present for the program, held in the township's consolidated school building.

Motorist Badly Hurt

White Haven — A 49-year-old Ashley, Pa., man was in serious condition at the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital where he was taken Thursday night following a single car accident five miles east of here.

State police from Fern Ridge who investigated identified the motorist as Emerson Williams. Police said a fire blew out on his 1953-model car as he traveled along the highway at 6:45 p.m. The car went out of control, left the road and turned over.

Williams suffered possible fractures of the skull and left shoulder, chest injuries and facial cuts in the crash. His car, valued about $1,800, was demolished.

In addition to "any state or earned increment already provided in the . . . schedule."

After studying the committee's report and recommendations, the board expressed a belief it could not approve the added increment.

Other features of the Stroudsburg school district salary schedule remain unchanged from the previous year. Among those features are stipulations placing a $400 limit on total increment received in one year's time; accepting military service as equivalent of teaching time in the district and providing a $200 additional income for a department head.

The program honoring township residents who had been married 50 or more years was part of the PTA's series of presentations dealing with "The School and the Community."

The entertainment was a combination of music and memory. It opened with an off-stage choral group singing "Memories."

On the stage, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waltz were seated in old-fashioned chairs in a replica of an 1890 "sitting room" complete with marble-topped table and family album dating to the early 1800s. The Waltzes have been married 51 years.

As the couple began leafing through the album, the chorus sang "When I Grow Too Old To Dream."

Then, as Mrs. Alberta Hayes sang "Dearie," the remaining four honored couples came onstage. From this point onward various events in the lives of the persons involved were re-enacted.

The four other couples were: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wildrick, married 56 years; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Starner, married 51 years; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Searfoss, married 60 years; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berger, married 52 years.

The two couples who could not attend, due to illness, were Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Berger, married 54 years, and Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, married 52 years.

Songs on the program included: "Annie Rooney," by Billy Hayes and Patsy Rhoads; "School Days," with Shirley Hawk and Ronnie Waltz; "When You Were A Tulip," by Patsy Knowles and Roger Waltz; "Daisy Bell" (complete with tandem bicycle) sung by Jim and Dan Kerrick.

"Down By the Old Mill Stream," with Joan Coleman and Jim Waltz; "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," by Beverly Kelper and Roger Waltz; "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," by Alberta and Glenmore Hayes; "Drifting and Dreaming" with Rita and Ray Fisher; "Peg O' My Heart," with Edna Waltz and Johnnie Miller.

Also "Oh, Promise Me," a vocal solo by Shine Blakeslee with enactment of a wedding ceremony by Emily and Harold Carter; "Let the Rest of the World Go By," with Elsie and Austin Blakeslee; "In My Merry Oldsmobile" with Elnora and Robert Keiper; "My Blue Heaven," with Dr. and Mrs. James Kitchen; "Side by Side," with Grace and Bill Wildrick.

Also "Silver Threads Among the Gold," with Maude and Harvey Keiper; "Dear Hearts and Gentle People," with Mrs. Grace Bush, Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee, Mrs. Peter Hawk, Mrs. Cobleigh, Mrs. Charles Rhoads and Eleanor Getz, all long-time neighbors of the couples being honored.

Then the entire cast of 45 persons appropriately costumed, came on the stage to sing "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet" as a large, three-tiered wedding cake was presented to the couples who later shared it with the audience and cast.

Special tribute was also paid to Mrs. Elizabeth Blakeslee, 95, and Mrs. Helen Hanna, 80. Corsages were presented to all the women.

Prior to the PTA program, Girl Scout Troop No. 15 held its investiture ceremony. The American Legion and Auxiliary of Pocono Lake presented a panel discussion of "The Service Organization — Its Place in the Community."

Eshback Files Petition For Nomination

J. Russell Eshback, of Bushkill, announced candidate for State senator from the 14th District, filed nomination papers with the State Elections Bureau in Harrisburg yesterday.

Eshback is seeking the Republican nomination for the office now held by Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Stroudsburg), who is not a candidate for reelection.

A petition for State Democratic committee was mailed to Harrisburg yesterday by Forrest Smith.

Smith is a former Burgess of Delaware Water Gap borough and a member of the borough school board for six years. A realtor, he now lives at 105 Linden St., Stroudsburg, with his wife and two daughters.

Eight Republicans and one Democrat filed petitions in Monroe County Courthouse yesterday. All are seeking committee posts. They include:

Republicans John H. Richards and Romaine B. Custard, both of East Stroudsburg RD1, for committeeman and committeewoman positions in Middle Smithfield Township; Charles R. Keegan and Florence H. Keegan, both Stroudsburg RD2, for committee positions in Northern Hamilton Township.

Also, George W. Raish, of Tannersville, for Pocono Township committeeman; Oscar Everett, of Effort, for Chestnuthill Township committeeman; Walter D. May, of Saylorsburg, and Gwen J. Veely, of Stroudsburg RD1, for committee positions in Southern Hamilton Township.

The lone Democratic petition was that of Francis C. Mooney, of Scotrun, seeking the committeeman's office in Pocono Township.

Water Gap Man Recalls 'Great Fireball Procession' Across County 41 Years Ago

Flying saucers can't hold a candle to the "Great Fireball Procession" of 1913—at least in the memory of a 64-year-old Delaware Water Gap man who saw the 1913 sky parade.

He's Arch Keller. When the fireball "procession" occurred, Keller was a young man of 23 years. He remembers the night-time incident quite clearly.

Until recently, however, Keller had trained himself to stop thinking about what he had seen. The reason: Nobody else hereabouts seems to have seen it.

Then in Tuesday morning's Daily Record, Keller read a dispatch saying that a noted U. S. meteor expert was searching for on-the-spot observations of the procession.

The scientist is Prof. Lincoln LaPaz, of the University of Mexico. LaPaz is relying on evidence collected from the laymen of the nation who may have witnessed the display rather than scientists who apparently were off duty when the shower occurred.

This is the story of the 1913 fireball parade, as Arch Keller recalls it.

On Feb. 9, 1913, Arch and his brother-in-law, the late Bill Transue, had gone to some neighbor's home near Shawnee for a few hands of pinocle.

As was customary with pinocle, one game called for another. It was "very late" when Arch and his companion left the neighbor's house.

As Arch remembers it now, the hour was "somewhere around 2:30 or 3 a. m." It was dark as tar in the sky as the two men walked toward their own home over the snow-covered "Middle Road" in the village of Shawnee.

Suddenly, at a point in the valley just before the road rises over a hill, Keller remembers that a strange thing happened to the snow on the ground.

It began to turn blue. Then, with an alarming speed, it got "lighter and lighter" until it was "just as bright as day," Keller recalls.

Then, suddenly, "a big ball of fire appeared over the crest of the hill," Keller says.

Nowadays "they call it a fireball," the local man notes. But, at the time he saw it, he called it a "meteor," and still does.

The ball was "enormous." It was followed by several others of a smaller size, but all larger than ordinary shooting stars. Each of the objects "threw off sparks of all different colors, just like the tail of an enormous skyrocket."

There were "six or eight smaller objects, trailing long tails of sparks, immediately behind the large one," Keller remembers. Right behind these came another series, smaller in size, but equally vivid in color.

All the objects moved at a remarkable rate of speed, Keller recalls. The celestial fireworks continued until "the entire sky was filled with them," he says.

In his letter to this newspaper, Prof. LaPaz noted that the objects may have set up a tremendous "roar" making it remarkable that more persons did not see or hear them.

Keller does not remember a "roar." What he sensed at the time was more like a "whiz"—a kind of whooshing noise in the air, similar to that made by any object swung with great speed through an open atmosphere, except that it was magnified many times.

Keller and Transue continued on to the latter's home in Shawnee. When they went into the house, Keller recalls, the sky was still filled with sparks, trailing fire and other evidence of the fireballs.

Next day, Keller talked with his friends about what the two men had seen. No one else in the village had seen the procession. Neither had anyone else in Monroe County, apparently.

In vain, Keller searched copies of the New York Times and Philadelphia papers. No mention of the meteors in any of them.

After weeks of attempting to make his friends believe that the fireball procession had really existed, Keller gave up. In a few years time he went into the service; went overseas during World War One; came back home.

It was after this return from war that Keller got his first encouragement on the matter of meteors.

In the New York Tribune he found an article written by an astronomer from McGill University in Ottawa, Canada. The learned astronomer noted the fireworks display of Feb. 9, 1913, traced its path across the U. S. and sounded amazed that more scientists had not seen it.

The astronomer had been working in his laboratory on the night of the occurrence. "The meteors had been seen, the scientist said, up to 600 miles southeast of Bermuda. Most of the scientist's information had come from ships at sea, however.

Keller called The Daily Record last night and offered his recollections for what they may be worth to the New Mexico scientists now working on the case.

Any other Monroe County resident remembering the "Great Fireball Procession of 1913" is asked to contact this newspaper.

MR. AND MRS. CARL ALBERT SMITH after their wedding last night with their attendants, Mrs. Loretta Miller and Albert Edinger. (Daily Record Photo)

Norma Ace Is Bride Of Carl Smith

Miss Norma Ruth Ace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ace of Park St., East Stroudsburg, last night was married in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church to Carl Albert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith of Fulton St., East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the ceremony at 7:30. The bride wore a light blue ballerina-length dress of tulle with a scoop neckline, a small black hat trimmed with flowers and veiling, and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Her matron-of-honor was her sister, Mrs. Loretta Miller, who wore a light blue dress with black accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Albert Edinger, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as his best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in honor of the newlyweds at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edinger, Fulton St., East Stroudsburg.

After a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home to their friends on Chippendale Drive, Stroudsburg, R.D.

The bride was valedictorian of the class of 1953 at East Stroudsburg High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society and received numerous awards. She is employed in the office of Worthington Mower Co.

Mr. Smith was graduated in the same class from East Stroudsburg High School and is secretary to the borough secretary of East Stroudsburg.

The Middle Smithfield Parent Teachers Association will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the school.

The program will feature a Juvenile Jury in a panel discussion.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The little bride who discovered the day before her wedding that the carefully selected, carefully addressed, double-enveloped wedding invitations had all been sent back because of improper postage might well have felt that this was one of life's blackest moments.

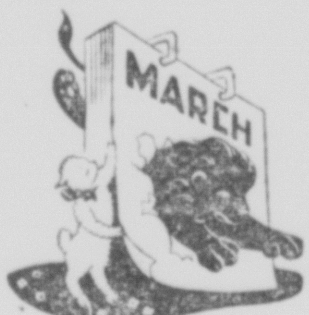

She might better take comfort in the thought that it will more probably be the cause of more laughter in the years to come than anything else about the wedding.

From years of experience I can testify that no wedding ever goes quite the way it's expected to. There was the father of the bride, for instance, who got a new suit for the occasion which needed the sleeves lengthened slightly. Back it came from the tailor to long in splendor in the closet until he was dressing for the wedding, when they discovered that the tailor had shortened them two inches instead of lengthening them. That wedding had to wait almost half an hour.

At another wedding with the guests all assembled, the bridegroom had left the license home in the West End, and it took quite a time to go get it—with a horse and buggy. You see, that was a couple celebrating their golden wedding.

Any wedding is perfect as long as it's the right two people.

Progressive Women Hear Allen Roth, Decemettes; Honor Past Presidents

Saylorsburg—The Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg had a three-star program on Wednesday night when Allen Roth, orchestra leader for the Milton Berle program, spoke on television programs and personalities, the past presidents of the club were honored in a "This is Your Club Life" program modeled on the television show, and there was special music by "five" talent, the Decemettes of Stroudsburg High School under the direction of Numa Snyder.

Mrs. Elmer Voety presided at the business meeting which was held in the Saylorsburg firehall after the Lenten services in Mt. Eaton Church.

The annual County Federation meeting will be held April 28 in Stroudsburg with reservations to be made with Mrs. Lloyd Altman, Mrs. Stanley Rader or Mrs. Voety, it was announced.

Mrs. Thomas Reinhart announced a meeting of new and prospective Girl Scout and Brownie leaders to be held March 26 at Chesham Hill High School after school, and invited anyone interested to attend. She also had Girl Scout cookies for sale.

Mrs. Clarence Budge told of the success of the teenage dances formerly sponsored by the club which has now organized independently with its own officers and directors and by-laws. They plan to hold dances the first Wednesday night in each month, alternating between Saylorsburg and Brodheadville firehalls. The West End Lions Club is planning an amateur night on March 19 and 20 at Chesham Hill School auditorium for the benefit of the West End Youth Center, it was announced.

Mrs. Harry Weiss, chairman of the canvassers for the Mothers March on Polo, announced that $746.52 had been collected.

Mrs. Grant Knowles introduced Numa Snyder and the Decemettes of Stroudsburg High School. They sang a group of four songs: "Theme Song," "Night Song," "Romance," with Miss Sandra Bollen taking the solo part; and "Lover and His Lass."

Allen Roth, orchestra leader for the Milton Berle television program, described the program. It costs $15,000 to put that show on each night, he said, with $80,000 paid for the time. It requires 125 people for the program and about eight writers to get the program together, he said. Rehearsals start Friday, and continue each day until the program is on the air. On the final day, rehearsals start at six in the morning and go on to eleven "the snake pit" until after the program is over.

Mr. Roth praised show people highly and said that their mistakes are publicized more than the many good deeds that they have done.

Speaking of Milton Berle he said that he was a very nervous man, but a wonderful person to know and be around. He had worked himself up from the bottom.

Clubwomen Will Meet April 28

Barrett Plans for the annual Spring meeting of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs were made at the board meeting held at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry L. Shinnen, Onawa Lodge, this week.

The county meeting will be held in Stroudsburg on April 28 with the afternoon session at the Stroud Community House and the dinner meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

At the business meeting, officers will be elected for the next two years. Mrs. Warren N. Edson, northeastern district vice president, will be the speaker in the afternoon. Mrs. Carl Schurr will speak at the dinner meeting.

Mrs. Shinnen appointed Mrs. Anna Serfass and Mrs. Dorothy Budge to audit the books. Placemats were on display which members of the county federation will be asked to sell for the Restoration Fund of Independence Hall. The state convention will be held at the B-Revue-Stratford, Philadelphia, on May 17-19, it was announced.

Mrs. Shinnen entertained the board members at a luncheon preceding the meeting.

Doctors' Wives To Attend State Auxiliary Meeting

Four members of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Monroe County Medical Society plan to attend the state convention to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg. Mrs. David Kohn, president of the local auxiliary, will be accompanied by Mrs. John Ramsey, Mrs. Horace Butler and Mrs. Harry Caulfield.

Mrs. George Turner, of El Paso, Texas, president-elect of the American Medical Association Woman's Auxiliary, will give the keynote address. They will also hear talks on medical benevolence, veterans' medical care, civil defense. Mrs. Frederic H. Steel of Huntington, and president-elect of the state auxiliary; Mrs. Willis A. Redding of Towanda, will speak as will James L. Whitehall, M.D., president of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Knowles acted as commentator in honoring the past presidents in a take-off on the television program, "This is Your Club Life." Mrs. Clarence Budge, who served from 1939 when the club numbered 14 members, and Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman, who served from 1942 until 1945, told of the struggle during the war years.

The third president, Mrs. J. E. Serfass, now in Florida, served during the time when a chorus was organized. Mrs. Stanley Rader, the fourth president, told that 75 new members were taken in during her term, and the Scout movement started. The fifth president, Mrs. Anna Serfass, told of the steady growth and struggle with both Boy and Girl Scouts. Mrs. Mervyn Krome, sixth president, told of the movement of starting the teenage dances and continuation of scouting.

Many humorous incidents were mentioned as well as serious ones. Mrs. Voety presented the officers and three other charter members who were present. Mrs. Frank Schick, Mrs. Kathryn Jones and Mrs. Eli Serfass, with a token from the club.

Place mats will be sold for the benefit of County Federation, with the proceeds to be used for the Restoration Project program of Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Refreshments were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. James Gould, Mrs. Howard Gregory, Mrs. Julian Kresge, Mrs. Mark Krotzing, Mrs. Henry Hoffman, Mrs. Joseph Culby, Mrs. LeVerne McNeil, Mrs. Edwin Kunkle, Mrs. Homer Shupp, Mrs. Ruth Baker, Mrs. Harley Bond, Mrs. Weston Fenner Sr., Mrs. Harold Everett.

Parents Hear Analysis Of School Budget

Tannersville — It costs about $326 to educate each student in Pocono Township School for one year, it was estimated at the meeting of the Pocono Parent Teachers Association at their meeting on Wednesday night at the school when members of the school board and of the county superintendent of schools' office gave parents a comprehensive account of their school finances and problems.

It was part of a program which marked the end of the school district's indebtedness, reported in Thursday's Daily Record.

Floyd Hay, secretary of the school board, explained in detail how the budget for the coming year's expenditures had been set up. The total valuation of the township is $1,158,135, he said, with total expenditures for the school estimated at $107,645. Of that amount about 65 per cent is for instruction and correlated expenses.

In estimating the per pupil cost of $326 per year, he listed $198 for instruction; $33, transportation; $29, operation of plant; $10, maintenance; $18, fixed charges such as insurance; $25, debt, capital outlay; and $5, general control.

County Superintendent of Schools, John H. Litts, compared conditions existing today with those of 1943. In those ten years, the population increased 200 persons, and the school population rose from 267 in 1943 to 344 in 1953. The tax rate ten years ago was 23 mills with a $5 per capita tax; now the tax is 35 mills, $5 per capita tax and $10 special tax per capita.

Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent of schools, outlined the complex system of reimbursement appropriations set up by the state.

George Learn Jr., president of the PTA, presided at the meeting. He named a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Ruth Learn, Mrs. Gilbert Scharf and Mrs. Joseph Williams. He also named a committee to look into projects which might need financial aid, in addition to the Music Boosters to whom a substantial portion of the proceeds from the Valentine's Day dance will be given. Mrs. James, Mrs. Horace Raish and Charles Brader were named to this committee.

Richard DeHaven, faculty advisor for the Junior Historical Society, asked for information regarding veterans whose names are to be added to the bulletin board in the hall. The Junior Historical Society is sponsoring the project. They plan to limit the names to those veterans who had attended Pocono High School, including those in the Korean conflict. It will be necessary to enlarge the present board and the PTA agreed to defray the expenses incurred.

The April meeting will be held on Monday, April 12, instead of the regular date which falls in the Easter vacation. It will be an open house with display of work done by the pupils.

Grade 1 received the banner for parent attendance. The Music Boosters held a cake sale following the meeting. One of the cakes was decorated with daffodils and hyacinths in blending colors of green, yellow, pink and blue, which had been contributed by Mrs. Keturah Hartman.

Miss Zimmerman is a member of the Warren Wilson College choir which sang in the Columbia Church of the Air on February 27, and will be guest soloist at the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Night Of Fun On Monday At Tobyhanna School

Pocono Pines—The public is invited to attend the "Night of Fun" planned by the Tobyhanna Township PTA to be held in the school auditorium on Monday night at 8 p.m.

There will be an auction of "crazy hats" and of "fancy baked goods," with a discussion of the uses and advantages of small electrical appliances.

Admission is free, and refreshments will be sold.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

This should be a big day at Wyckoff's. Not only is it a Saturday one week nearer Easter, but it's the day of our millinery opening, as well as of the annual clothing exhibit of Monroe, Northampton and Wayne counties' Home Economics girls.

Some people may watch for the first crocus, or the first robin. But to me, robin or no robin, crocus or no crocus, it's officially spring when the millinery opening is held. We may not have robins and crocuses on hats, but we do have one bonnet with a beautiful pink bird perched high atop, and we have others that are more "blow-some than a garden. Oh, those hats! Those wonderful, imaginative, mad, fantastic hats that look so beautiful—until I try them on.

Just last week a customer lamented that there were no flowers on this year's hats. That was true last week. But we've certainly blossomed out since then! We've blossomed in velvet, with pampas, forget me nots, arbutus, hyacinth and almost everything else you could name beautifully overlaid to form the crown of a pillbox, that's actually appeared in its color combination. We've blossomed out in embroidered white pique flowers applied on a white pique pillbox perched with one long, white quill. We've blossomed out in a deep orchid, rhinestone bedazzled rose, standing primly upright at the very center front of a soft orchid straw, which is further decorated with clusters of purple flowers solidly massed at each temple.

And, this not being quite enough, we've also blossomed out in breathtaking flowers of pink trailing prettily over the shallow crown of a large, rose cartwheel. Beautiful, yes, and expensive—but the kind of color combination that will do justice only to black, navy, beige or similar neutrals. Some of these hats are created by Jill—and for surprisingly little jack. The one garden bonnet described is only $12.98—but it's a hat any woman can wear with pride, assured that it not only looks good but is good looking. (There's a difference, you know.)

After looking over our millinery, I find it impossible to describe any particular style or color as being fashion's favorite. It seems to me that we women are playing the field this year, and will be able to buy almost anything that suits our whim. There's quite a variety to choose from, believe me.

For the woman who would be casual, there are soft little elches of yarn, with crocheted flowers in bright colors as trim, and black velvet clips to hold it firmly in place. For the woman who would be reminiscent of the sweetly old fashioned girl, there are picture hats of blue, festooned with filmy fluff and huge blue roses. For the very young girl who would be cute and different, there are hats of crocheted straw interlaced with ribbons, like an Easter basket, the streamers being left free to dangle like pony-tails down the back. And the prices range from $3.98 at the hat bar to 20-some dollars in our second floor shop. There are hats in which you'll look both dreamy and nightmarish, and hats that, as Florence Predmore describes them, "are good enough to eat—like a strawberry sundae."

Come into the store today to see for yourself. Whether or not you intend to buy, you are welcome. Look... try... and enjoy these wonderful concoctions. You'll also see some of our hats modeled this evening when the Girls' Home Economics Clothing Exhibit is climaxed by two fashion shows, at 5:30 and 6:30. Incidentally, these girls can certainly sew. Isn't it good our fashion departments that not all women are so clever?

Somers Wins Advancement To Sergeant

Mountainhome — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Somers received word here this week that their son, Francis Somers, has been promoted to sergeant with the U. S. Army in Korea.

Sgt. Somers entered service Oct. 6, 1952 and received his basic training at Indiantown Gap. Later he was transferred to the State of Washington and left for Japan and Korea from there.

In Japan, Sgt. Somers attended an Army supply school. He has been overseas since March 9, 1953 and expects to return state-side next month. He also will get a 30-day furlough then and expects to be discharged in October.

A graduate of Stroudsburg High School, class of 1949 he was employed by the A&P here before entering the Army.

Miss Biggs Given Cancer Scholarship

Loretta Biggs, daughter of Mrs. Theresa Biggs of Stroudsburg, has been awarded a $700 scholarship to take a special course in cancer research at University of California at Los Angeles, it was learned last night.

A graduate of Stroudsburg High School, Miss Biggs received her nurse's training at St. Luke's Hospital, Fountain Hill. For the past three years she has been studying cancer in the San Francisco, Calif., Hospital.

Miss Biggs is credited with several years of research which resulted in tuberculosis being classified as an occupational disease. Through her efforts the Pennsylvania Legislature passed into law a measure which grants compensation to nurses who suffered TB following contact with patients.

Miss Biggs, herself a victim of the contact, underwent surgery for correction of the disease and it was largely because of her awareness that the legislation was enacted.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

A recent decision by the Monroe County League to feature 15 basketball games next season instead of 10, as in the past, appears to be a wise move. The addition of five games to the circuit will make for more spirited competition and should appear much more attractive to the fans in the area. It will also put the circuit into a class almost by itself. There are very few scholastic leagues of any sort in existence today that feature each team playing every other team on three occasions in one season, especially since all the games will count in the final standings.

Karl Weingartner, three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, departed from school on Thursday with a case of threatened measles. The gust of wind you felt was caused by a sigh of relief from John Kupiec, basketball coach, and Jerry Stulgaitis, baseball mentor. Each was relieved that it didn't happen to the likeable athlete during his season. Karl holds down a guard position in basketball and handles the shortstop duties on the diamond. The suspected measles turned out to be just a rash.

Everyone in the area is pleased at the showing of Slatington High and the fact that the Slaters won the District 11 class "A" Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association championship, was well received by the local basketball followers in this section. Slatington's success is due largely to the outstanding coaching talent of Lloyd Williams, one of the nicest guys to ever tutor an athletic squad. This column is hopeful that Slatington can upend Chester in Philadelphia next Tuesday. Chester defeated Yeaton, the defending state title holder, on Thursday night, at about the same time that Slatington was clipping St. Clair in overtime, 76-73.

Barrett's entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League is searching for a new shortstop. Bill Zubrod, the guardian of the short field post in recent campaigns, will reportedly be in Colorado by the time the 1954 baseball campaign gets underway. While on the subject of the Pocono Mountains League it might be a good idea to point out the fact that the Tannersville entry in the circuit will hold a ham and egg supper at the Pocono Township Fire House a week from today. Tickets have been printed and will be distributed this weekend.

The National Coaches Clinic at Atlantic City earlier this week was reportedly an outstanding affair by the local coaching talent that attended the four day school. Ray Kaseman's name should be on the first team selected by the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference and not on the honorable mention list, as far as this writer is concerned. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will have to get a break in the weather to run off its Saturday, April 3 baseball game with Trenton on schedule. The contest will be played on the Normal Hill field.

What little success Kutztown State Teachers College enjoyed in basketball this season may be traced to the fact that five members of the squad came from the Lehigh Valley. Roger Coiviera, the club's record holding high scorer, is from Catasauqua; John Karo, Copley; Dick Moore, Northampton; Ed Roth, Catasauqua and Carl Diehl, Allentown. Harry Warner, likeable hard hitting first baseman from Reeder, leaves for spring training with Jacksonville, of the class "A" South Atlantic League, on Monday. Harry first made his mark in pro baseball with the Stroudsburg Poconos.

Barrett High will have three trophies to put in a new trophy case being obtained by the school. The junior varsity squad will account for two new awards while The Daily Record Trophy, given to the varsity for winning the 1954 Monroe County League basketball title, will also be found in the case. The Harmony Five-West End exhibition basketball game wasn't played on Thursday night due to the fact that the Chestnut Hill High court was reportedly unavailable on that date. The squads were informed earlier that the Tobyhanna Township hardwood was also in use on that date.

Jim "Cocky" Wilson, former Tobyhanna Township High basketball star, will play with Newman's entry in the Gold Medal Tournament beginning at Stroudsburg High on Monday. Both the East Stroudsburg and Barrett High school basketball squads will be present in the large crowd watching the final night's action in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight. Although there is interest present, the local crowd is and has been much smaller at the NIT this year than it has been for the past several campaigns.

The injury suffered by Carl Sawatski, former North Atlantic League slugger, may make his chances of sticking with the Chicago White Sox very slim. Sawatski was hit in the head with a pitched ball during Thursday's exhibition with the Boston Red Sox. Carl's hitting feats at Gordon Giffels field, when he was a member of the Bloomingdale, N. J., club, will never be forgotten.

Kaseman Lands Conference Honorable Mention Post

ESSTC Star Among 23 Leading Players

Johnstown—Ray Kaseman, outstanding floor man, shooter and spark of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball team, yesterday was given an honorable mention position on the third annual Pennsylvania State Teachers College Basketball Conference All-Star team.

Kaseman, a junior, has been the big gun on the ESSTC squad for the past two campaigns and turned in a brilliant performance during the season just completed.

The junior sharpshooter played brilliantly on both offense and defense for the Warriors, who completed the season with six wins and 12 setbacks.

Kaseman is a graduate of Shamokin High School.

Bill "Werk" Werkheiser, stand-out on the championship Millersville contingent, was the number one choice for the first team. The former Norristown High star was a three-to-two choice over all other selections by the coaches in the 14-team conference.

Second Choice

The second five features a pair of Becks-Tom of Slippery Rock and Ted of West Chester. Roger Coiviera, high scoring star who has set virtually every offensive weapon in the books at Kutztown, and Ted Yelovich, Lock Haven.

Coiviera is the only repeater on the first two teams from last season. Ted Beck received an honorable mention spot last season.

In addition to Kaseman, the honorable mention list includes: Farah, Indiana; Ondrula, Bloomsburg; Labatch, Millersville; Rich, West Chester; McCullough, Clarion; Cavaleiro, Indiana; Kozick, Bloomsburg; Ruland, Edinboro; Linkoski, Mansfield; Jim Parker, Cheyney; Palumbo, Slippery Rock, and Saffern, West Chester.

Millersville, presenting one of the best teams in the history of the school, easily dominated the conference this season, while the remainder of the field trailed behind.

The conference title holder set a record by finishing the campaign without a defeat in conference competition.

Several other scoring marks were set during the course of the season only recently completed, as the conference enjoyed one of its most successful campaigns in its short history.

The conference is made up of ESSTC, Millersville, Cheyney, West Chester, Lock Haven, Indiana, Slippery Rock, Shippensburg, Edinboro, Bloomsburg, Kutztown, Clarion, California and Mansfield.

Middlecoff, Kroll Tie

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Tournament favorite Cary Middlecoff scored another wind-blown sub-par round yesterday to draw into a tie with New Yorker Ted Kroll for a one-stroke lead in the $10,000 Baton Rouge PGA Open.

With most scores soaring in the skittish breezes that buffeted the 6,411-yard country club course, the former Memphis dentist posted a 71 alongside his opening day 67 for a total of 138 at the halfway mark.

Putter Trouble
Kroll, displaying his usual ability to beat the wind with long, low-slung drives, ran into putter trouble and had to scramble on the back nine to keep the pace. The New Hartford, N. Y., professional came in at 72.

A stroke behind the leaders was Slim Ed Furgol of St. Louis, who also had to come on with a rush to make the regulation figure after blazing a 67 in the opening round.

LaSalle, Penn State, Notre Dame, Navy Win

Philadelphia (AP)—All-America Tom Gola scored 26 points and grabbed 26 rebounds in a spectacular all around performance last night to lead LaSalle College to an 88-81 victory over North Carolina State in the quarterfinal round of the NCAA Eastern regional tournament.

Navy won the right to meet LaSalle in tonight's semi-final game edging Cornell 69-67 in the first half of the twin bill on Ken McCall's only field goal of the night with three seconds left.

Prior to McCall's game-winning shot, Navy's twin scoring aces, John Clune and Don Lange,

Schuylkill Haven Gains Class 'B' Title Over Fountain Hill

Pocono Gun Club Downs Frost Hollow

Phillipsburg, N. J.—Pocono Rifles, a newly formed shooting club from Stroudsburg, defeated Frost Hollow, 1,251 to 1,224, in a Pennsylvania Rifle and Pistol League match here at the National Guard training center this week.

Jim Banks paced the winning team with a score of 273, while Tom McCool, Henryville, was next in line with a 259 count. Glen Snyder hit 245, Taylor, 241, and Bert Hilliard, 233.

Frost Hollow was paced by Mike Kroth with a score of 250. Jack Snyder was second with a 247 count, while John Cochran, 245; Al Hunt, 242, and Bill Wischam, 240, rounded out the team scoring.

Dodgers Trim Red Sox, 4-3

Miami (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored four runs on one hit in the eighth inning last night to end the Boston Red Sox five-game winning streak, 4-3.

Shutout

Willard Nixon and "Skinny" Brown shut out the National League champions with two hits, both off the former, until Jim Ehler took over in the eighth. The right-handed rookie from Texas walked four straight batters then made way for Truman Cleveland.

Schuylkill Haven Gains Class 'B' Title Over Fountain Hill

Slatington—Schuylkill Haven won the District 11 class "B" Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association basketball championship last night by scoring an 80-65 decision over Fountain Hill before 1,500 people here at Smith Hall.

Fountain Hill, second half title holder in the Lehigh-Northampton League, was no match for the South Schuylkill League champion.

The Lehigh-Northampton League club was able to outscore the opposition only in the second quarter, while the Schuylkill Haven quintet piled up its winning margin in the other three periods.

Joe Hill, high scoring center for the winning team, paced his mates to victory with 26 points, 16 of the markers coming on field goals and the other 10 on foul shots.

Schuylkill Haven opened a 17-11 bulge at the end of the first period, but trailed by a 30-27 count at halftime, as the Fountain Hill pupils of Coach Charley Dubbs had the better of the second round, 19-10.

But, the powerful Schuylkill Haven crew bounced back into the lead in the third period and held the upper hand the remainder of the contest as both clubs took out all offensive stops. The winning aggregation dominated the third stanza, 22-15, and the final round, 31-20.

Fountain Hill made good on 19 of 29 foul shots, while Schuylkill Haven rang the bell on 29 of 38 charity tosses. The winning club held a 30-23 edge in field goals.

Bob Breidenbach and Ronnie Encarnacion were the big guns for the losing Fountain Hill quintet with 16 and 15 points respectively.

Pirates Swamp Braves, 25-11

Bradenton, Fla. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted six home runs yesterday to rout the Milwaukee Braves, 25-11, in a major league exhibition game.

Big Blow
Frank Thomas clouted two of the homers and Slid Gordon, obtained by trade from the Braves last winter, Jerry Lynch, Jack Lohrke and Brandy Davis added the others. The six blasts gave the Pirates a total of 15 home runs in their last three games.

Cagers To Gather

Tannersville—Plans for a post-season playoff grind will be made tomorrow when the Pocono Mountains Basketball League holds a business meeting here at the home of Glen Woodling. The gathering is slated for 3 p.m.

Normal Hill Grads Present At Clinic

Football coaches from schools in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg found themselves in familiar surroundings while attending the National Football Coaches Clinic in Atlantic City earlier this week. There were a total of 23 graduates of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College among the huge crowd of scholastic coaches attending the affair.

Jack Kist and Dick Forster represented East Stroudsburg High, while Jerry Stulgaitis and George Metropoulos were present for Stroudsburg High. Gene Martin and George Ockershausen represented ESSTC.

Kist, class of 1941, and Metropoulos, class of 1951, are the only local coaches who are graduates of ESSTC.

A list of other ESSTC graduates, their class and present school where they are coaching follows:
John Strein, 1940, Taylor High; Ben Green, 1930, Allentown; Jim Egli, 1948, Pennsylvania High; Tony D'Angelo, 1949, Bristol Borough; Bob Izer, 1942, Milton High; Jack Hentes, 1923, Blakely High; Gene Bonelli, 1951, Delone Catholic, McSherrytown; John Whitehead, 1950, Scotland Orphanage High, and Bob Reese, 1949, Taylor High.

Three Stars
Jack Gregory, 1952, William Penn High, New Castle, Del.; Bob Dowd, 1946, Seaford High, Delaware; Don Daughenbaugh, 1948, South Williamsport High; Stan Reeder, 1950, Millfiling High; Jack Goepfert, Jr., 1948, Hummelstown High; John Petercuskie, 1950, Old Forge High; Bob Rhiel, 1953, Bensalem Township High; Dick Luttrell, 1952, Middle Township High, Cape May Court House, N. J.; Stan Morgan, 1949, Carlisle High; Stan Rittinski, student at ESSTC for two summer sessions.

Upper Moreland High, Willow Grove; Astor Ritter, 1941, Collingswood, N. J. High, and Steve Curry, 1947, Clifton Heights High. The clinic, directed by Dr. Harry Scott, Coatesville, Pa., featured some of the top coaching talent in the United States as instructors.

Instructors were Don Faurst, Missouri; Ray Eliot, Illinois; Charley "Rip" Engle, Penn State; Henry "Red" Sanders, University of California; Leonard Watters, Williams College; Hugh Daugherty, line coach Michigan State; "Duke" Burkholder, DuBois High; John Boyd, Atlantic City High, and Roland Bevan, trainer at West Point.

Lupcho Tops Greene-Dreher Scoring List

Newfoundland — Bob Lupcho, scoring a total of 229 points in 18 games, nosed out Captain Bob Cron for scoring honors for the basketball season recently completed at the Greene-Dreher-Sterling High school, according to figures released last night by Henry "Hank" Arneberg, physical education instructor at the school.

The lanky six-foot-four-inch sophomore center's season output was just one point better than Cron's, whose 228 points were scored in only 17 games, thus giving the latter an edge in the per-game averages, 13.4 to 12.7.

Cron also took down top honors in accuracy from the foul line, sinking 42 of 65 attempts for a 64 per cent average. Lupcho was the heaviest scorer from the free throw line with 60 conversions out of 118 tries for a 50.8 per cent mark while other regulars hitting for commendable averages were Tom Klepado, 50 and Henry Olsommer, 46 per cent.

Lupcho, however, was far and away the most accurate shooter from the field, hitting on 44 per cent of his shots for a total of 86 field goals scored. Of the other regulars, Art Frey led with 40 per cent, followed by Olsommer with 33 per cent, Cron with 30 per cent, Tom Klepado with 29 per cent and John Manhart with 20 and Dave Heberling with 14 per cent.

The Stags were successful in 32 per cent of field goal attempts while holding the opposition to a 27 per cent figure.

In winning 11 while losing seven, the local five ran up a total of 991 points while their opponents could score only 877, for an average of 55 points per contest as compared to 48.7.

The following tabulation lists the number of games played, number of field goals scored, number of fouls converted, number of fouls tried, total points scored and average per game.

Dukes Battle Holy Cross

New York (AP)—Duquesne, perhaps the best defensive team in major college basketball but an unsteady performer right now, and blazing-hot Holy Cross, one of the top scoring teams, meet tonight in the final game of the 17th National Invitation basketball tournament.

Preliminary
Western Kentucky and Niagara, the losers in Thursday's semifinals, clash in a preliminary to decide third place. With the upset-seeking Crusaders as the big attraction, Madison Square Garden is likely to be packed to its 18,000 capacity for the first time this season.

The final, in addition to its interesting contrast in the styles of the two teams, also is expected to provide a sparkling individual duel between Togo Palazzi, the Holy Cross sharpshooter, and Duquesne's lanky Dick Ricketts with the tournament's most valuable player award as the prize.

Valdes Outpoints Parker In Dull Bout In Garden Ring

New York (AP)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban heavyweight champion, won his seventh straight victory last night by outpointing James J. Parker of Paterson, N. J., in a dull, sloppy 10-rounder that brought boos from the fans in Madison Square Garden. Valdes weighed 211½, Parker, 210.

Both fighters came into the ring with impressive knockout records but they exploded no fireworks for the Garden fans and television viewers across the nation.

There were no knockdowns in this battle between six foot three heavyweights and nothing close to one.

Valdes, ranked as the number two heavyweight contender in the world, won the unanimous decision by a big margin but his victory was far from impressive.

The votes, all for Valdes, were: Referee Barney Fells, 7-3; Judge Jack Gordon 6-3-1, and Judge Arthur Schwartz, 7-2-1. The Associated Press had Valdes in front, 7-3.

Warriors Wrestle Poly Today

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will wind up its wrestling season today, when the Warriors play host to Brooklynn Poly, at 3 p.m. The match will be held in Wayne Gymnasium and not in the Normal Hill gym as is usually the case.

The switch in gyms was made necessary because of decorations for a dance in the Normal-Hill gym sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association tonight.

ESSTC has won only one of four matches thus far this season and would like very much to close with a victory today.

Coach George Ockershausen announced last night that Harry Hess, who has been out of action almost all season because of injuries, would replace Jerry Sorenson in the 177-pound bout.

Bob Murphy will again wrestle at 123, while Roy Everts handles the 130-pound chore. Jerry Rushin will enter the 137, Jim McCullen will operate in the 147-pound bout and Joe Myers will be in the 157-pound event. Jerry Revella is ESSTC's 167 pounder.

Warriorettes Close Season

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will close out its girls' basketball season today in a game with Elizabethtown College, on the latter's home court. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m.

ESSTC will take a record of five wins and two defeats into today's clash. The defeats were suffered in successive games with Temple and Ursinus.

Victories
The Warriorettes opened the campaign with five straight wins, taking the measure of College Misericordia, Panzer, Hunter College and Cheyney, twice.

Coach Genevieve Zimbar's ESSTC club will probably open the game with Grace Asberry, Eilian Williams and Nancy Diviny at the forward posts, while Doris Zerbe, Joanne Lythgoe and Shirley Yeagle serve in the guard section.

Pen Argyl Kegler Captures Singles Crown In Bangor Association Bowling Tournament

Bangor—Verne Parsons, Pen Argyl, won over 29 rivals in the singles division of the first annual tournament sponsored by the Bangor Bowling Association here at the Slate Belt Bowling Center this week.

Parsons paced a field of 29 kiegler in the singles handicap division with a 706 score. Parsons enjoyed a sizeable margin over Bob Barlett, Les Henning and Art Kromer, who also finished in the money with scores of 649, 639 and 637 respectively.

Henning combined with Archie Dally, co-proprietor of the Slate Belt Bowling Center, to win the combined handicap crown with a 1291 score, 12 points ahead of the nearest opposition.

Second Place

Second place in the doubles division went to "Chubby" Dell Alba, co-proprietor of the Slate Belt alleys, and Jack Davis, who rolled a 1277 match. Others finishing in the money were Eddie Shipp and Don Weaver, 1251; Bill Shipman and Art Kromer, 1251; Vern Parsons and Dave Muffley, 1213; and Dale and Joe Gardner, a father and son duo, 1210.

Parsons came back to win the all-events title with an actual score of 1799, edging Henning by a scant seven pins. Henning finished the all-events action with a 1792 tabulation.

Slate Belt Dairy, a member of the Bangor "B" League, won the team division of the tournament. The Dairy won with a handicap score of 3024, just edging out that league, Ship and Shore. The second place club rolled a 3021 match. A total of 16 teams competed with the first six qualifying for the cash prizes.

Other teams finishing in the money were B and B Appliances, Class "A"; Ronco's Nash, Class "A"; and the Catholic Men's team, an entry in the Catholic League, in that order.

St Patrick's Program Given By Grangers

Cherry Valley—Stories of personal encounters with snakes by individual members of the Grange highlighted a St. Patrick's Day program at the local Grange Hall here.

Frank Majestic related an experience in the Philippines where it took eight men to carry off a huge boa after it was caught in a trap. While most agreed that the farther from the reptiles the better, some credit was given to harmless varieties, especially blacksnakes.

Feature of the program was the presentation of Irish songs by William Lott, Kurt Grunke and Hans Hauck. The trio was heard in several selections. Mr. Lott sang a solo and Mr. Hauck played an accordion solo.

Mrs. Marianne Schmidt sang Brahms' "Lullaby." Mrs. Beulah Snyder accompanied the singing and also played a solo. Thomas Rogers and William Lott also presented an impromptu skit on how to make out a tax report.

A business meeting preceded the program when a square dance was arranged for tonight. Mrs. Horace Brewer and Mrs. Samuel Geiz volunteered to work as a committee to make arrangements for the dance.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. George Snyder who died recently.

Next meeting will be on March 25 when the Pocono Grange will be guests and will present a program. April 17 was announced as date for the meeting of the Pocono Grange at Tannersville when the fifth degree will be conferred upon applicants.

May 23 was noted to be Rural Life Sunday and members were reminded that on April 24 the local Grange will be guests at the Haymondskill Grange.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6 add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every row of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Forest Fires Destroyed 1,760 Acres In District Last Year At $7,794 Cost

Forty forest fires destroyed 1,760 acres in Delaware Forest District last year, sending damage figures to $7,794, District Forester E. C. Pyle reported from his Stroudsburg headquarters yesterday.

According to Pyle the destruction was one of the worst in recent years, although in 1947 fire ravaged 2,400 acres and four years later the acreage destroyed was 1,900.

Knob Teaches Bassoon At University

Edward A. Knob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Knob of Pocono Park, is now teaching bassoon in the Wind Instrument Department at the University of Michigan.

Prof. William D. Revelle, director of the famous Marching Band of the University is the department head.

Mr. Knob was married last Dec. 30 in Boston, Mass., to the former Nancy Bridge of Portland, Maine. They met while both were studying with the Boston Symphony Orchestra last summer at Tanglewood, Mass. They are both members of the Ann Arbor Civic Orchestra and reside at the present time in Ypsilanti, Mich.

Pre-School Examinations Scheduled

Tannersville — Pre-school examinations for children entering Pocono Township School in September, 1954 will be held at the school on Wednesday, April 6.

In announcing the date yesterday, Supervising Principal Lawrence Wile urged parents who have not received forms to fill out, to write him or call him at the school.

The requests for forms should be made "just as soon as possible." Wile said, to facilitate holding of examinations on the day set aside for this purpose.

Some of the forms have been distributed to township parents by school children. Wile said, but there is a possibility that a few homes were not reached.

child will be named Nancy Jean in honor of Mrs. Bunell's daughter, Mrs. Jessup is the former Edna Fennel.

The square dance committee met at the home of Mrs. Albert DeRenzi Tuesday night when final plans were discussed for the dance which will be held Friday night.

Knob Teaches Bassoon At University

Edward A. Knob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Knob of Pocono Park, is now teaching bassoon in the Wind Instrument Department at the University of Michigan.

Prof. William D. Revelle, director of the famous Marching Band of the University is the department head.

Mr. Knob was married last Dec. 30 in Boston, Mass., to the former Nancy Bridge of Portland, Maine. They met while both were studying with the Boston Symphony Orchestra last summer at Tanglewood, Mass. They are both members of the Ann Arbor Civic Orchestra and reside at the present time in Ypsilanti, Mich.

Your Horoscope Today

SATURDAY, MARCH 13, 1954
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — You may experience a pleasant surprise today either in personal or business matters. However, the stars warn against litigation tonight; overconfidence could also spoil a good outlook.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Beneficial changes may be your lot today. Take to them calmly and seriously and they will unfold favorably. Follow prospects through. Be gracious when give and take is indicated; it shows appreciation.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Be level to expect offers that could lead to better position, activities — these coming from arduous work, exertion, a somewhat indifferent period but do not relax.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer) — Do not allow foolish emotional feelings, suspicions to spoil what could be a happy and happy home. Domestic relations, pleasant romance could brighten the p.m. period.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo) — Your own outlook will largely determine what progress, if any, you will attain. Don't risk things, or take a superficial attitude. Hold to sound, honest principles.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo) — Maintain a sane, calm attitude now, regard the hidden danger, hidden under the cover of friendliness, in business, industry in all things.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra) — "Stormy clouds," general uncertainty will lift suddenly, bring a better outlook for your worthwhile efforts. This specialty applies to you who try, are sincere, honest in all dealings.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio) — A stimulating and unusual period with all worldly goods, pleasures, favors.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — A period of great good and sound decisions. Make up your mind to be a go-getter and you will see a real change in results.
